

INTEGRATED POLICY

“We aim to be a producer of food and renewable energy that contributes to the development and well-being of the communities in which we operate.

We work towards consolidating a sustainable production system in which, in addition to generating returns to our shareholders, we can ensure the safety and quality of our products, the development and health of every member of our team, the satisfaction of our clients, the protection of the environment and the relationship with our stakeholders.

We believe that the best way to achieve our goals is through the consolidation of a team committed to our core values: transparency, trust, efficiency, innovation, sustainability and safety. We attempt to work in a suitable environment, favoring professional and human development, minimizing the risk of accidents and of occupational health issues.

We implement Good Practices and efficient technologies which allows us to balance production and protection of the environment. We focus on the protection of the soil, the correct use of water, the maintenance of samples representative of main ecosystems, and the prevention of contamination. In this way we are committed to protecting our environment as well as that of future generations.

We are committed to the integral development of the communities in which we operate. We drive the growth of our business while contributing to the creation of value in every place. Moreover, our Community program has the goal of multiplying opportunities in three main areas: Education, Nutrition and Local development.

We take responsibility for complying with applicable legal requirements and the commitments made by our organization, and accompany our suppliers in doing so as well. Aligned to international standards, we work within a framework of continuous improvement of our management system. We do so by controlling, revising and correcting each process, with the goal of improving our sustainable performance.”

Mariano Bosch
CEO
10/06/2021

